

The reason for this golf outing with the UGA coaches is to support the Mark Richt football camps.

"Football camp is a special time for a young man. He will improve his understanding and skills at his position which will give him the confidence needed to have a great season. Our coaches teach the very same technique we teach our University of Georgia players. He will learn to work hard and compete with others in his age group. He will also make friends that could last a lifetime. This camp experience is one he'll never forget."
